AT "HOME" OFFICE

MR. KIRK TAKES IN PHILADELPHIA AND THEN GOES ON TO NEW YORK

En Route N. Y. to Chicago,
October 15, 1919.

Dear News:—
My visit to the Home office of the "Provident" being the real goal of my trip east. I hurried on from Washington to Philadelphia without stopping in Baltimore, although I had never been there.

Philadelphia, "The City of Brotherly Love," has always been such a butt for the jesters of other cities because of its slowness that I was very agreeably surprised to find it such a fine city. Have you heard the story of the Philadelphian who, while being entertained by a friend in New York and enjoying some delicious snails, was asked if they had no snails in Philadelphia, replied "yes, I think so, but we can't catch the darned things?"

However slow Philadelphia may be she is "sure" and is probably the soldest town in the country. I spent a good deal of the three days I was there around the Provident Building, where I had a warm reception and a most profitable time, but I also managed to take in the town somewhat. There are so many places of national interest in Philadelphia, the chief of which, of course, is "Independence Hall" and buildings constructed in 1732. Betsy Ross House is a good second. Carpenters' Hall, the old Christ Church and hundreds of other buildings have a world-wide history, but the one that interested me most was a modern one—that of the Curtis Publishing Company, a majestic building just across the Park from Independence Hall, and in strong contrast to it. I had the pleasure of going clear through it. They mail 200 tons of magazines a day, consume 20 tons of ink per week in the circulation of over 150 millions of magazines per year! It is too vast to realize.

I had a sightseeing trip through Fairmount Park which contains 3,483 acres—all improved, and which is probably the largest and finest in the world. It is almost entirely level and the fine driveways through its magnificent stretches of lawn and trees make it a delightful place to visit. A few of the Centennial build-

AUTO COLLISION

Quite a serious auto collision occurred at the intersection of Central and Colorado Sunday afternoon, but fortunately no one was very badly hurt. J. C. Corwin, of 123 Sycamore Drive, Los Angeles, was driving south on Central avenue. Mr. Woodson, of 340 West Orange street, Monrovia, was driving a Ford car west on Colorado. The two machines came together at the intersection. The Woodson car was upset and Mrs. Woodson was unconscious when taken out from under the car. She was taken to a near-by residence and a physician called. Her daughter, Miss Anna Teastworth, received minor cuts and bruises. The top and windshield of the Woodson car were badly smashed, but it was not disabled and after two hours had elapsed the entire party left for Monrovia in the Woodson machine. By-standers who witnessed the accident declared that Mr. Corwin had the right of way and Mr. Woodson was at fault.

NEW BURBANK SCHOOL

LOWEST BIDS TOTAL $30,000
MORE THAN AVAILABLE FUNDS
AND MORE BONDS NEEDED

Burbank has had an unpleasant surprise. When bids were received for the new grade school building the lowest bid received was $51,730 on the general work, $17,900 on the masonry work, $8375 on the plastering, $5450 on the painting, $2633 on electric wiring, $7150 on plumbing, $8144 on steam heating and $3,167 on gas heating system. These lowest bids totaled about $30,000 more than the funds available for the school. The school trustees have therefore decided to call an election for November 11th to vote on an additional bond issue of $35,000 to enable the district to build, as planned.

ACREAGE MOVING

J. W. Burton, of Burton & Chandler, declares: "Real estate is moving very rapidly with us and keeping a man jumping sideways to find houses for people who want to buy. We no longer pay any attention to people who want to rent houses as we disposed of the last one on our list today. We are turning more acreage than anything else around Glendale."

BIG ELKS' MEETING

LARGE MEMBERSHIP GATHERS FOR BANQUET AND CELEBRATION OF ANNIVERSARY

Glendale Elks celebrated the founding of the lodge with more than usually impressive ceremonials in connection with the initiation of a group of new members which included James A. Brennan, Walter P. Phillips, H. W. Schroeder, William A. Clarke, Arthur J. Flavin, Frank W. Atkinson, Robert E. Rayburn, Frederick P. Hogue, J. M. Douglass, Jack Allen Mower, A. W. Keene, Daniel Murphy and Melville Brown. Following the initiations some fine readings were given by Joe Griffin and then an adjournment was taken to the banquet hall where a very fine course dinner was served, covers being laid for between four and five hundred guests. Not only was a large local membership present, but also many members from Fillmore and Simi. Besides these many visiting Elks were present from lodges in different parts of the United States, though there were no regular delegations from any one lodge. Following the banquet a moving picture was shown on the stage screen. The officers have been invited to put on the work at San Bernardino next Monday evening. The invitation has been accepted.

REAL ESTATE ACTIVITY

Showing the activity of real estate, a caller at the Glendale Evening News office recently mentioned a house and lot on Elk street sold not long ago for $1500. The new owner resold after keeping it a few weeks for $2100. Now, after making a few improvements, the second owner has been offered $3000 for it.

AN ANNUAL EVENT

Cornwell & Kelty are sticklers to follow up a plan that is a success. Eight years ago they began conducting a pumpkin weight contest, and there was so much interest in that contest that they have had a guessing contest every year since. About this time of the year a large pumpkin is placed in the window, and all persons who wish to register a guess as to the weight of the pumpkin are given an opportunity to do so free of charge. It is the custom of this firm to give valuable prizes to persons coming nearest to the weight of the pumpkin. This is one of the very few instances in this world that a man stands a chance of getting something for nothing. The children always take a live interest in these contests.

FEDERATION MEETING

REPORTS OF COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN SHOW MUCH EDUCATIONAL WORK IN PROGRESS

The regular meeting of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations was held Monday, October 20th, at 2:15 p. m., in the auditorium of the Intermediate School, with the president, Mrs. A. A. Barton, in the chair. Mrs. Barton stated that she had attended the state and district board meetings and read the report of net returns from the card party at the home of Mrs. John Robert White, which, after all expenses were paid, totaled $20.28, which was turned over to the treasurer, with a unanimous vote of thanks to Mrs. White.

PRESIDENT RECEIVES REPORTS

DICTATES LETTER OF SIX HUNDRED WORDS TO SECRETARY LANE REGARDING INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, October 21.—It was learned at the White House today that Senator Hitchcock has informed President Wilson in a letter of the treaty situation in the Senate. The letter was read to him by Mrs. Wilson. It contained an optimistic report of the outlook and is said to have cheered the president greatly.

The president also has been informed of the deadlock in the Industrial conference and of the threatened coal miners' strike through reports which Secretary Tumulty has made to him.

WASHINGTON, October 21.—President Wilson this morning dictated a letter of six hundred words to Secretary of the Interior Lane who is chairman of the Industrial conference. While the nature of the letter was not announced it is understood it contained an admonition to members of the Industrial conference to get together in view of the serious industrial situation.

Secretary Lane said the letter had been written evidently in the belief that some of the delegates might leave the conference. He added that he did not believe such a danger is threatening and that he would use his own discretion about reading the letter to the conference. The letter was of a private nature but the president gave Lane permission to use it as he saw fit. The president has been given information by Mrs. Wilson and Admiral Grayson. This morning he demanded that he be allowed to send the letter. His physicians protested strenuously but to no avail. He conferred briefly with Secretary Tumulty who called at his room and then sent for a stenographer to whom he dictated the communication to Secretary Lane.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, October 21.—John Fitzpatrick, leader in the steel strike arrived in Washington today and conferred with labor members of the Industrial conference and then asked for a conference with the heads of the Big Four Railway Brotherhood. It is understood that he plans to ask for their assistance in the steel strike. Brotherhood chiefs refused to comment on Fitzpatrick's request.

RIOTS AT BRADDOCK, PA.

CAUSE NOT CLEAR BUT FIGHTING SAID TO BE CONFINED LARGELY TO FOREIGN DISTRICTS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PITTSBURG, October 21.—Several persons were injured in a riot soon after noon today at Braddock, near here, according to telephonic reports. The cause of the fighting is not clear but street police stationed at Rankin have been ordered to Braddock. The police report the fighting is confined largely to the foreign district.

PRESIDENT'S CONDITION UNCHANGED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, October 21.—The president's physicians issued this statement at noon.

"The president's prostatic condition remains as before. A chemical examination of the blood shows that the kidneys are functioning normally. He did not sleep so well last night but shows no sign of fatigue this morning."

FLYER SMITH REACHES THE PRESIDIO

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN FRANCISCO, October 21.—Captain Smith, the first transcontinental aviator who started from the Presidio to complete the round trip to Mineola, arrived at 9:44 this morning.

KNIGHTS DINE

MEMBERS OF GLENDALE COMMANDERY ENJOY BANQUET AND MUSICAL PROGRAM

The first of a series of important social events arranged by Glendale Commandery No. 53, Knights Templar, which are scheduled to come off monthly, took place Monday evening when Knights and ladies to the number of about ninety gathered at beautifully-appointed tables, gay with floral decorations, and enjoyed a course dinner delicious in every detail which had been prepared under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Ogg. As the ladies were the special guests of the occasion the Knights laid aside their dignity and served with great efficiency.

Following the dinner a very fine musical program was furnished by local talent, all artists. Great enthusiasm was aroused by the violin numbers of Miss Hazel Linkel, a pupil of the celebrated Russian violinist Saslavsky. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. J. E. Curran, a fine pianist. No less delighted was the audience with the whistling solos of our own little Marie Louise Hand, who is considered by many the equal of Miss Margaret McKee. Her sister, Mrs. Goss, provided her accompaniment. Each of these ladies was presented with a handsome bouquet as a tribute of appreciation. Besides this program there were guessing games for which prizes were given to the clever lady and gentleman who showed the keenest wit in naming the answers. There was, of course, the visiting that always goes on when the Knights and their ladies get together, and it was one of the most successful affairs the order has enjoyed.

FLOOD CONTROL

A. L. SONDEREGGER SUSTAINS RECOMMENDATIONS OF F. OLMESTAD IN RE FLOOD CONTROL

Paraphrasing the saw, "Take care of the pennies and the dollars will take care of themselves," A. L. Sonderegger, who addressed members of the Southern California Association of Civil Engineers at a recent meeting, declared: "Take care of the little floods and the big floods will take care of themselves." His way of taking care of the floods is the same as that recommended by Mr. Olmstead of Glendale, viz., to build check dams at the head waters of flood feeders to hold back debris that would fill water channels, retard run off and cause overflow.

The havoc wrought by the floods of 1914, he explained, on the theory that no serious floods had preceded them for 25 years and during that time stream channels had filled with sand. This the 1914 flood washed out leaving unobstructed channels for the floods of 1916 which were even greater, but which did less damage because more closely confined. He argues from these premises that flood control in Southern California could be secured by check dams and small retention reservoirs in the canyons, the dams to be made, as Mr. Olmstead indicated, from loose rock and rock blasted from the sides of the canyons or by the construction of porous dams with posts and wire mesh under what is known as the Pratt system.

Like Mr. Olmstead, Mr. Sonderegger held that the construction of these dams would raise the water plane and irrigation by storing water

SILVER WEDDING

FRIENDS OF MR. AND MRS. E. H. HARDING SURPRISE THEM ON 25TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Harding of 707 East Orange Grove avenue, through the planning of their daughter, Miss Eliza Harding, were given a pleasant surprise by relatives and friends one evening last week in celebration of their silver wedding anniversary. The list of guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Shepard and son, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Frey, Mr. and Mrs. John Martin and two children, Mrs. A. E. Toll, sister of Mrs. Harding, and her mother, Mrs. S. E. Vederstrom, three nephews, Chester, Guy and Carl Toll, and Mrs. Carl Toll, Mrs. Lida Letton and daughter, and Charles Harding, brother of E. H. Harding, Mrs. Chas. Harding and daughter. The honorees were the recipients of a very nice silver shower and refreshments were served at the close of a greatly enjoyed social evening.

SIBERIAN SOLDIERS

TRANSPORT SHERMAN BRINGS VLADIVOSTOK TROOPS OF 27TH AND 31ST INF.

Glendale mothers whose boys have been in service in Siberia are anxiously awaiting news of the passenger lists of the steamers which are arriving from Vladivostok bringing soldiers of the 27th and 31st Infantry. The transport "Sherman" came into Golden Gate Harbor, San Francisco, Sunday, but as the boys are always held in quarantine for two or three days before being permitted to land, no lists are yet available. Mrs. Freeman, of this city, is hoping for some message from her son Verne, and relatives of Walter Perry are looking for a telegram from Ed Binz, of Los Angeles, who has gone to San Francisco to try to get news of his nephew, brother of Charles A. Perry, of 111 North Louise street. Another boat is due the 27th of this month which will bring all the service men not already landed who were members of the 27th and 31st.

SPORTING MILLERS

JUDGE HARRY AND H. L. MILLER VISITED MORINO DAM AND GOT DUCK LIMIT

Judge Harry Miller was the guest of H. L. Miller on a week-end auto and duck-shooting excursion about which he is giving the most enthusiastic reports. "We couldn't have had a nicer trip," he declares. The two men left here Saturday at one o'clock and drove to San Diego where they spent the night at a hotel getting an early start the next morning for Morino Dam, a large body of water controlled by the San Diego Water Company. Though many hunters had preceded them they had excellent luck, bagging the limit on Sunday and getting nine additional ducks Monday. They camped at the dam Sunday night and enjoyed that, too, although it was crisp cold. Besides ducks to reward sportsmen there was splendid fishing and everyone who fished a line got the limit of bass. They reached home at 9 o'clock Monday night, after having covered about 400 miles of travel over splendid roads and without a mishap of any kind.

BUSINESS CHANGE

Changes are taking place at 109 East Broadway. James W. Pearson, the realty operator, is moving his office to 128 North Brand not because it is a better location but because he needs more room than where he now is. Associated with him as salesman will be Robert R. Bartlett, a new comer in Glendale from Indianapolis and a son-in-law of H. D. Adams of West California.

NEAL WELLS HOME

RECEIVES HONORABLE DISCHARGE FROM SERVICE ON MEXICAN BORDER

First Private Neal Wells surprised his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Wells, of 339 West Harvard street, by presenting himself all unannounced last Saturday noon and declaring he had come home to stay. He is wearing several decorations for distinguished service, one of which was won during battles with Villa's forces in which he participated. He has been a soldier of Uncle Sam on the Mexican border for two years, a good part of the time being stationed at Marfa in a dreary, uninteresting country fifty miles from any town. His mother reports that he looks well and that he received his discharge from the army under the Act of Congress which provided that all soldiers who enlisted after April 1, 1917, would be considered as enlisted for the duration of the war. That is the reason he is at home and he is delighted to be here. He has lost no time in cinching a job at the carpenter's trade which he was following in association with his father when he enlisted, being then engaged on the First Methodist Church of this city. He spent Monday in Los Angeles getting tools he will need.

Mrs. Wells considers that her son has profited by his army experience. He has learned self-control, she says, and he now speaks Spanish quite fluently. Besides following his trade of carpenter at intervals, he has had experience in running a gasoline engine which will probably be of value to him.

ROMANTIC OUTING

SCOUTS WITNESS BLOWING UP OF PIRATE SHIP USED IN FILMING "TREASURE ISLAND"

Troop 2 of Glendale Boy Scouts under Scout Master R. L. McCourt had a jolly week-end outing at Balboa Beach. They left here Friday afternoon fourteen strong and camped across the bay in the sea caves that face the beach at the foot of the bluffs. There were no dull moments as something was doing all the time in the way of swimming, fishing, rowing, etc., and they were also treated to motor-boat rides by Mr. Tressler of this city, who has a summer home down there. Sunday they witnessed quite a dramatic incident in the blowing up of the old ship, "Fremont," which was a new ship about sixty years ago and which had a picturesque career as a pirate craft. A moving picture company had purchased it and stranded the boat on a sand bar just off the inlet where it played an important part in the production of a film version of Robert Louis Stevenson's "Treasure Island," which had just been made. Several special police had to be employed to protect its property rights as producer and owner and one night the boys were routed out to see if by any chance they had a moving picture camera. When their innocence was proved they were allowed to take still life pictures of the old wreck to their heart's content and improved the opportunity. After witnessing the blowing up of the ship the boys enjoyed a big dinner at a Balboa cafe and left for home at seven o'clock Sunday evening. The party included Benjamin Robinson, Senior Patrol Leader, Patrol Leaders Thomas Wood, Robert Frazee and Henry Blanchard and Scouts Robert McCourt, Paul Hutchinson, Walter Yard, C. G. Farrell, Dallas Kalbaugh, William Walker, Robert Stanford, Gordon Barto, Willard Roberts, Stillman Chase.

AT "HOME" OFFICE

ings still exist, one, a glass conservatory of plants and flowers, is still a beautiful building and in a fine state of preservation.

Philadelphia is noted for its great banks, trust companies and other savings institutions which are regarded as a bulwark of financial strength.

But from there to the great City of New York. "Some burg—little, old New York!" It has been sixteen years since I paid my only visit to the metropolis, and the growth and improvement are very marked. Rolling into the magnificent Pennsylvania station through a tunnel under the Hudson River into the heart of the city, is a new experience. The completeness, size and convenience of the great Pennsylvania and New York Central stations are the marvel of the traveler. It is so easy to find your way in and out, to get anything you want or anywhere you desire to go that you wonder at it, knowing how hard it is to find your way or get anything in many cities of the country. It is very easy to find one's way and to learn how to get about both in Philadelphia and New York. The transportation system of New York has been wonderfully improved in recent years, the surface cars, subway trains and the "elevated" being supplemented by a splendid line of busses which make excellent time and cover all the up-town territory. They are double-deckers and the view from the top of one of them is far superior to that which can be gotten from any other vehicle. A ride up Fifth Avenue, over to Riverside Drive and back another route gives one a splendid idea of the immensity and great population of the city. I noted the large, fine apartment buildings facing the Hudson, from about 100 to 120th streets, and was told that practically their entire number of tenants is Jewish. In fact, I never realized before that there are about two millions of Jews in New York City—about one-fifth of all Jewry. I saw several buildings of the Young Women's Hebrew Assn. one, away up-town, about as large as Los Angeles' Y. M. C. A. Building.

Immense hotels in New York are almost innumerable, and a room in them almost impossible to obtain unless engaged ahead. I was unable to get a room at the "Pennsylvania Hotel" or at the "Commodore," and a friend who had ordered his mail to the McAlpin had to seek quarters elsewhere. The wealth of the American people seems absolutely inexhaustible when one observes how it is poured out in New York. Four to six dollars a day, European, for a room is the minimum for good lodgings. What the rates are in the "swell" hotels I leave you to imagine. Profiteering in the eating line is on the same basis. To eat at hotels or cafes in a very moderate way costs as much as your room rent. "Childs" and "Thompson" and other caterers, however, have moderate-priced places all over town, where prices approximate the lunch places in Los Angeles. California fruit is in evidence everywhere, especially "honeydew" melons. These seem to have a great hold on the east. Apples and oranges sell at about the same price for good sizes, 5 cents apiece up to 12 cents apiece. To pay 10 cents for an apple, even if it is choice, is "going some."

I paid another visit to the Aquarium down at the Battery. It is a very popular place—crowded all the time—and the strange fish and sea-life of the east coast are interesting, indeed! The very large tanks, clear water and lighting system add immensely to the view and many hours could be very entertainingly passed there. The color of some of its fish are indescribably beautiful—some being almost transparent. The view from the top of the Woolworth Bldg. 60 stories and 792 feet high is the acme of sightseeing in New York. The city, Brooklyn, Hoboken, Staten Island, the Harbor, the Rivers, everything as a map before you. But I wouldn't want to be up there during an earthquake!

Last night I took in "Happy Days" at the Hippodrome, which is the last word in entertainment in New York or anywhere else. Every minute brings a change. It is indescribable in a letter and I won't attempt it. Will try to give you an idea of it if you will ask me when I get back.

I saw our fellow townsman, J. E. Bassett, who is now New York sales manager for the Paine Lumber Company, of which he is a director with office in the Metropolitan Building. He still owns his former home on Kenneth Road and North Central avenue, and will again be a citizen of Glendale some day. He looks fine.

It rained steadily all day Sunday and yesterday so I am on my way home stopping for two or three days in Nebraska. Would have stayed in New York a day or two longer if the weather had been good.

Everybody with whom I have talked asks interestedly about California "no Knockers." I can truthfully tell them that I believe we live better and have more to eat for less money than any country on earth.

Yours,
W. B. KIRK.

DEATH OF W. E. RANSOM

W. E. Ransom, who for several years had owned property at the southwest corner of Verdugo Road and Wilson avenue, and who had quite a circle of friends in this city, passed away the last of the week and was buried on Monday. His death followed a serious surgical operation. He had been so crippled as to be unable to walk for two years, but had carried on his business until a short time before his death by the aid of attendants who carried him to and from his auto and his place of business. He was an art connoisseur and dealer in oil paintings, and traveled the world over in his search for art treasures. He was therefore well known in art circles not only in Los Angeles but in all the large cities of the United States, and will be missed by a wide acquaintance.

The afternoon was devoted to needlework on the quilts which are being made for the comfort of the needy and Miss Maud Salisbury entertained with piano numbers which were much enjoyed. At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served.

MOTHERS' CLUB NOTES

Members of the Mothers' Club of the Acacia Avenue School held their regular monthly meeting October 17. The club was voted in the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations September 15th and the report of the membership chairman, Mrs. Donald Bennette, showed that it went in more than one hundred percent strong. Sixty-two pupils are enrolled in the Acacia School and the club has a membership of eighty.

A very nice program was enjoyed.

Mrs. Fay Gregg Stone, accompanied by Mrs. Reits, gave as a whistling solo "At Dawnning," by Wakefield Cadman. Mrs. McDonald an instrumental solo, Miss Harriet Barnes a reading which greatly delighted her audience. Mrs. Young, Federation membership chairman, was an honored guest and gave an interesting talk. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Percy Priaulx and Mrs. Irving Oliver.

GRACE SHROPSHIRE

HONORED GUEST AT SOCIAL AFFAIRS PRECEDING HER DEPARTURE FOR KANSAS

Miss Ruth Wilson entertained a few friends one evening last week, the guest of honor being Miss Grace Shropshire. Games and dancing were the diversions of the evening and the Hallowe'en idea was the motif carried out in decorations and in the refreshments of coffee, doughnuts and pumpkin pie. Guests were Misses Grace Shropshire, Dorothy Hunt, Eileen Sullivan, Gladys Lampert, Marguerite Hunter and Ted Soderberg, Albert, Robert and Francis Sullivan, Kenneth Jackson, C. H. Claussenius and Ralph Christy. Sunday afternoon the same young people were entertained for Miss Shropshire by her mother, Mrs. Mary E. Shropshire, assisted by her sisters, Misses Lillian and Birdie Shropshire. A pleasant afternoon was spent taking kodak pictures and otherwise enjoying themselves and at six o'clock a delicious dinner was served by the hostess. After that had been enjoyed the entire party went to Los Angeles to accompany the honoree, Miss Grace Shropshire, to the station, where she took the train for Lawrence, Kansas, where she will be the guest of an aunt and will also visit in Kansas City and other places in Missouri, where she has relatives. It is her first return to her birthplace since she came to California as a very small child, and she anticipates great pleasure from the experience. She is planning to stay all winter and perhaps longer, and before her return will visit her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shropshire, in Tennessee.

SEVENTY-FIFTH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Mary E. Lucas, mother of Dr. P. O. Lucas, shared with friends the celebration of her 75th birthday last Friday when she gave a luncheon, serving a real Southern chicken pie made with her own hands to a party which included Rev. and Mrs. Munger, Mrs. Anna West, Mrs. Vonglon (a former resident of Glendale now living at Elliot Place). Mrs. Myers, Mrs. Calkins, Dr. and Mrs. Lucas and their three children. A handsome birthday cake was also a feature of the feast. "Grandma" Lucas was the recipient of many pretty gifts.

Father O'Neill asks that the person who picked up the $20 bill at La Ramada Park during the fair confer with him. The bill was lost by a working girl who cannot afford to lose such a sum.

BOTTLED COMFORT

You can buy a hot water bottle for a few dollars, in fact we have them as low as a dollar and a half; but can you estimate in dollars and cents the comfort there is in one of these common, everyday, inexpensive articles of homely use?

If you are cold at night, if you suffer from cold feet, can you imagine a pleasanter sensation than creeping shivering into bed, stretching out and resting your clammy extremities against a nice hot water bottle?

For the baby the hot water bottle is indispensable and the elderly person whose circulation is poor should not be allowed to suffer for the want of such an inexpensive article as this.

The wise woman who knows that emergencies arise in the best regulated households is never without a hot water bottle for use in case of illness. She knows that moist heat is nature's own remedy for pain; she knows the relief that comes with the application of the hot water bottle to aching muscles or to organs that are not functioning properly. She would not be without a hot water bottle.

Nothing you can buy gives such large returns in comfort for the money invested as the hot water bottle.

We carry Several Standard makes of Hot Water Bottles; the Goodyear, the United States Rubber Co. and Others, and the best part of it is they are Guaranteed.

Broadway Bakery Bread

Satisfies

Bread being the staff of life is the most common article of diet but the bread you get at the Broadway Bakery is more than that—it is a real delicacy. The making of bread is a common process; yet it is a science or an art if done right. The quality of the materials used, the method in which they are mixed, the heat to which the dough is exposed while rising and the proper temperature for baking all have their bearing in producing a good loaf of bread—and all this cannot be learned in a day or a week.

We have given much time and thought to perfecting a loaf of bread. We use good ingredients. Much experimenting and long experience have aided us in producing bread that is endorsed by housewives who are careful that the food they serve their families is pure and wholesome.

So if you are looking for something to satisfy that inner longing buy a loaf of Broadway Bakery bread, cut a cross section of the loaf an inch in thickness, more or less, take this creamy-white slice edged with golden-brown crust, spread with butter and perhaps a thin layer of jam or jelly and take internally. It will give you a satisfied feeling.

FLOOD CONTROL

(Continued from Page 1) under ground. The checking and spreading of water in mountain areas he urged must be done on a larger scale than ever before attempted, and all speed should be made to accomplish as much as possible before winter rains begin.

He declared that the danger of floods following forest fires was greatly increased by the sealing of the surface of the debris cone and stream beds by the combined ashes and silt washed down from denuded mountain slopes. He recommended crib dams and loose rock dams to hold back the run off and retain the debris because, in his judgment, the Pratt check dams would not stand up against the on-rush of boulders brought down by swift currents.

C. E. Tait, senior irrigation engineer of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, before the same association recently read an exhaustive paper on "Spreading Water for Flood Control," which was summarized at the end in conclusions quoted in part as follows:

"Water spreading properly conducted is of great economic value in conserving and storing flood waters for the benefit of the underground water supply for irrigation. It may be made effective as a flood control measure independent of conservation for smaller streams. For the larger streams it does not alone suffice for flood control but it is of some value in that respect in conjunction with other measures such as storage in reservoirs and the use of check dams.

"This work should be extended to all the streams on the south slope of the Sierra Madre range from Pacoima Creek in San Fernando Valley to Mill Creek near Redlands wherever any flood waters flow into the ocean and where the work has not already been done."
